

Rental Transactions Increase

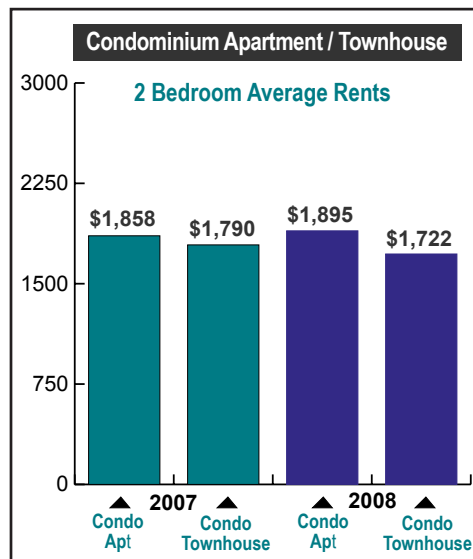

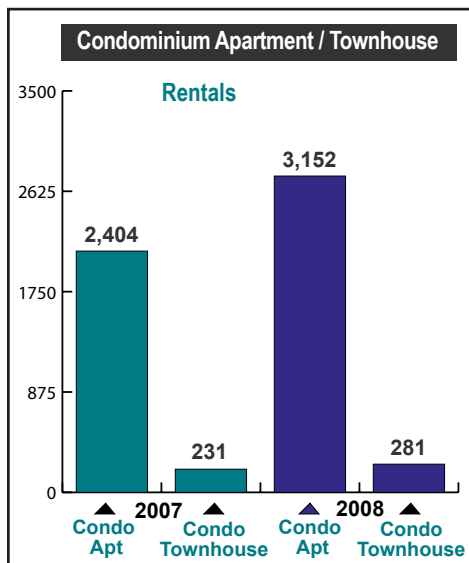

During the latest reporting period (September 1, 2008 to December 31, 2008), TREB Members reported 3,433 rented condominium apartments and townhouses in the Greater Toronto Area. This represented an increase of 30 per cent over the 2,635 transactions recorded during the same time frame in 2007. A good part of this increase likely came from rental listings in newly completed condominium apartment buildings containing investor-owned units. According to the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, condominium apartment completions were up by 70 percent in the GTA last year. In the City Of Toronto, completions increased by 136 percent*.

Average condominium apartment rents, on an annual basis, rose for one, two, and three bedroom types during the September to December period. Average two bedroom units, for example, rose two per cent to $1,895 per month. Annual average rent increases were noted for one-bedroom townhouses.

Central Area

- TREB's Central Area once again proved the most active for GTA rentals, with 2,052 units rented during the September to December period, up 37% from the same time in 2007. In the C01 and C08 districts (see map) especially, rental units in several newly completed buildings accounted for a large portion of the increase.
- Of the apartments rented, 1,175 were one-bedroom units which rented for an average of $1,550 per month, and 721 were two-bedroom units that rented for an average of $2,141 per month.
- Of the 64 condominium townhouses rented, 29 were three-bedroom units that rented for an average of $2,855 per month.
